Word of Many Meanings.

Mr. Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the supreme court of the United States, recently used this expression: "The defendant kicked against this." The use of the word "kicked" by a man so distinguished as an associate justice of the greatest court on earth, has caused some comment. Slang has indeed won its way into high standing, state some of the observers, when Justice Holmes makes use of it. But the Albany Journal, seeks to show that the associate justice is not using slang, and quotes Shakespeare, George Eliot and Tennyson, to substantiate its position. These three writers, all use the word in similar settings. Many other writers, and speakers without end, have made similar use of this multi-meaning word. The Albany Journal in commenting upon the phrase culled from the justice's opinion, might have gone further than it did in quoting authority for the expression. "Kick against the pricks," may be found in Holy Writ.—Greenville News.

GREENVILLE WOMANS COLLEGE

Complimentary tickets were sent to the faculty and students of the Greenville Womens college last Saturday evening to hear Miss Josephine Gilmor, American prima donna and Signor Huberto Soriano, celebrated Italian tenor, in grand opera concert at the opera house. This was a concert long to be remembered by music lovers.

One of the most elaborate affairs of the college year occurred Monday evening, November eighth, when the senior class entertained the junior class and other friends. Receiving with Dr. and Mrs. Ramsay were the officers of the senior class, Miss Adelyn McComb, president; Miss Olive Busbee, Miss Marguerite Halsall, Miss Grace Coleman, Miss Annie Maude Wilbur, and Miss Marie Padgett; officers of the junior class, Miss Marion Smith, president; Miss Priscilla Poteat, secretary; Mrs. Sican and Miss Dawson and Miss Snodgrass from the faculty. The halls and parlors were beautifully decorated with carysanthemums and potted plants, the senior colors, yellow and white, predominating. Music was furnished by the college orchestra. No more delightful and dignified reception has ever been given by the college girls.

Mr. O. W. Moerner, southern secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition association spoke in chapel two days last week in behalf of the cause which he represents. He organized a branch of the association while here. Mr. Moerner made the statement that the league formed at the Greenville Womens college was the largest with the exception of one that he had organized in any southern college.

Mrs. Ramsay attended the Womens Missionary union convention in Spartanburg last week. Twenty-two young ladies from the college went with Mrs. Ramsay for the Wednesday evening program. Miss Bryant, a teacher in the college was also a delegate to the convention.

Miss Eudora Ramsay, former English teacher in the G. W. C., returned to the college on Thursday, from an extended equal suffrage campaign in Pennsylvania. Miss Ramsay delighted and entertained every one in the chapel the next morning with her account of the many interesting experiences she had during the summer. All her many friends are so glad to have her with them. She brought with her Miss Margaret Hickson of Butler, Penn., who is to be a student in the college.

Breads.

Vienne rolls: One pint of milk, one yeast cake, flour, four table-spoonfuls of Wesson oil, one-half teaspoon of salt; add the milk, when lukewarm add the oil, salt and yeast, kneaded in half cup of lukewarm water. Beat in sufficient flour to make a soft dough, beat thoroughly and continue adding flour until the dough is stiff enough to knead on a board. Knead continuously for 10 minutes; put it back in the bowl, cover and stand in a warm place (75 degrees F.) for about three hours or until it doubles its bulk. Turn the dough out carefully, pinch off a small piece, make it into a round biscuit, and stand in a greased pan; place the biscuit so that they can not touch each other. Cover the pan and stand in a warm place for one hour. Cut each biscuit, making a cross on the top, brush with a white of an egg and tablespoonful of water beaten together, then bake in a quick oven for 20 minutes.

Whole wheat muffins. Two cupfuls of whole wheat flour, three-fourths cupful of white flour, six level teaspoonfuls of sugar, two eggs, two cupfuls of milk, six level teaspoonfuls of Wesson's cooking oil, five teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one pinch of salt; beat the eggs well, add the oil, sugar, salt and milk, then beat in the flour that has been sifted with the baking powder; bake in greased gem pans. This recipe is enough for 24 muffins.

Corn muffins: One-half cupful of corn meal, one cupful of boiling water, two tablespoonfuls Wesson's oil, one cupful of milk, two eggs, one teaspoonful of sugar, one-half cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Mix the corn meal in boiling water, when cold add Wesson oil, milk, eggs well beaten, salt, sugar, and then sift in the flour with the baking powder. Pour in muffin rings and bake in moderate ovens.

French waffles: One quart of flour, four tablespoonfuls of Wesson oil, four and half pints of milk, three eggs, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt. Add the salt to the oil and flour and mix thoroughly; separate the eggs, add the milk to the yolks; add this to the flour and beat for five minutes. Let them stand for 30 minutes and add the baking powder. Beat again, fold in the well beaten whites, and bake at once.

Quick Biscuits: Two cupfuls of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two teaspoonfuls of salt, three-fourths cupful of milk, four tablespoonfuls of Wesson oil, sift flour into the bowl, add baking powder and salt. Then put into this alternately, a little of each at a time, the milk and Wesson oil, stir mixture lightly with a spoon, turn on floured board and roll out in a cut. Bake in shallow pans in a quick oven.

May Perform Ceremony For President and Bride

Rev. C. Ernest Smith.

Rev. C. Ernest Smith, rector of St. Thomas Episcopal church in Washington, which Mrs. Norman Galt attends, will likely perform the ceremony of marriage for her and President Wilson. So far no definite statement has come from the White House, but Washington society and those who thing they know the president's plans expect such an announcement. Mrs. Galt has long attended the church, which is one of the most fashionable in the capital. Since the announcement of her engagement she has not been seen there so often. While the date of the wedding has not been set, Washington guessers fix it about Nov. 15.

Favors Ownership Of Merchant Ships

New York, Nov. 13.—The necessity of providing at least 100 auxiliary ships for the navy as an arm of the national defense was urged by Senator Duncan U. Fletcher of Florida tonight at a meeting of the Academy of Political Science at Columbia University as justification in itself for the enactment of a bill for the government ownership of merchant ships.

Senator Fletcher had charge of the government Ship Purchase Bill in the senate last session and his words were listened to as indicative of plans for enacting the measure into law at the coming session.

"Last January when the Ship Purchase Bill was before the senate, I pointed out that Great Britain, with all of its naval establishment, had found it necessary to commandeer about 1,500 merchant vessels during the present war," said the senator. "I pointed out the need of naval auxiliaries. The need grows on us. The government is compelled to build and acquire ships to meet the necessities of the navy. Navy auxiliaries are a certain and controlling need. These auxiliaries can be constructed so as to serve commerce in time of peace and be made ready to serve the navy in time of threatened or actual war. It is an arm of the national defense which must be developed and made serviceable."

Private control of transportation may serve the purpose today and to-morrow may join foreign combinations in utter disregard of both investors and the public, he continued to say.

"We must be free from foreign domination," he added. "I do not know how this can be secured except by governmental control, in view of the great lead that the merchant marines of other countries have secured."

The shipping laws enacted since 1912 were pronounced as the first aid given American shipping in years. He defended the terms of the Seaman's Law, which went into effect eight days ago, adding that he thought it would be found that the strongest objections to the act on the Atlantic coast came from foreign shipping interests. The senator denounced the action of the Pacific Mail Steamship company officials in abandoning their trans-Pacific service on the ground of the Seaman's Law and then transferring their ships to another ocean where the same law applies with equal force.

The commercial demand for more tonnage is increasing as the months roll by, the senator pointed out.

"We have suffered many millions of dollars during the past year in loss of trade and commerce, and in burdens on freight rates," he said. "The rate on grain to Liverpool is 40 cents a bushel, while before the war it was 4 cents. The rates on flour has gone from 12 to 65 cents a hundred pounds. On provisions the rate is increased from $5 a ton to $1 a hundred pounds. On cotton the rate is $1.25, when formerly it was 20 cents a hundred pounds. Eastern railroad terminals are congested, due to lack of ships. Freight continues to pile up at the ports. No law controls ocean rates. We may expect to pay foreign ship owners their own price, and that price will be higher yet. Freight embargo is on at Galveston and threatened in New York. Our markets can be restricted or eliminated without resort to import laws—control of the means of transportation is sufficient. The welfare of our producers is in peril, the necessary equipment of the nation itself is incomplete when we are dependent on foreign vessels to reach markets."

Subsidy had been a failure, the senator declared, and the mere use of the phrases of "socialistic" and "paternalistic" in characterization of government ownership of vessels did not frighten him in the least. He added that the same criticism had been made of the parcels post law, the postage savings law, the rural free delivery law, the taking over of the Panama railroad and steamship line, the Interstate Commerce Commission law, the establishment of a Bureau of Marine Insurance and various other measures which the people would not permit to be repealed now.

Who ever heard a boarding house landlady complain of a boarder's poor appetite?

Great Linguist.

He was a shining light of the intelligence corps, and before he arrived at Swakopmund his abilities as a linguist were spoken of with bated breath. To him there came his captain.

"Glad you've come Jones," said he; "we need a man who speaks German. Take a file and go down and tell that officer we made prisoner yesterday that I'll parole him, but if he attempts to escape he'll be shot."

Off marched Jones, full of the importance of his task.

"Spechen sie Deutsch?" he asked the chap, to the great admiration of the onlookers.

"Ja, ja," said the big German, eagerly, glad to find someone who understood him at last.

"Oh, you do, do yer?" said Jones.

"Well, the captain says as 'ow 'e'll give yer parole, but if you blooming well tries to skip it there's a bullet waiting fer yer, see?"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.
